

Business area:
Faithful+Gould - Strategic Asset Management

Requirements: On track for a minimum of a 2.2 Bachelor's in any discipline

Our teams and what they do

Do you want to work on some of the most prestigious, innovative and demanding strategic asset management and sustainability projects, from the global transformation projects to government framework developments?

Do you want to work for a company whose success is built on hiring, training, developing and retaining the very best people? Do you have the drive to keep on learning and achieve professional status?

We're a technical consultancy within the facilities and asset management sector of the built environment. The majority of our work is national with some international work. Our team of technical consultants support clients on a wide range of complex projects from enhancing operational effectiveness to developing sourcing and procurement strategies, designing Target Operating Models and being at the core of contract intervention and remediation. As a member of the Strategic Asset Management team you'll work with clients who are seeking to maximise the business value of their assets, estate and facilities management service. You may also be exposed to Life Cycle Costing with our cost consultants, as well as sustainability and built environment projects from environmental assessments to supporting clients through all RIBA stages on BREEAM projects. Our clients include such companies as GSK, EDF, Roche, Royal Mail, University College London, Salix and HS2.

You'll be motivated with a positive attitude and enjoy working with others, and always seeking to be forward thinking and going the extra mile to help us maintain our excellent performance.

Does this sound like you? In which case, please read on - we'd love you to apply!

What you'll be doing

At Faithful+Gould, we're a people business, a people business that wants to make a positive difference; a difference to the communities in which we live and operate, our client's projects, and the careers of our talented workforce. Our placement students are the next generation of that workforce – they're our future experts, and Faithful+Gould is committed to providing training and development to ensure that they, like all Faithful+Gould staff, have the best opportunity to fulfil their potential.

You'll join us as a placement student and will help provide expert advice to our clients on a range of complex projects. Our Consultants work across both public and private sectors, including universities, pharmaceutical, government and new and refurbishment development projects. You'll learn to work with clients and learn to be confident, a good communicator, problem solving and well-rounded and broad-based consultant. You'll be given the opportunity to grow, with a wide variety of projects to work on with an experienced, high performing team, to learn from.

Who we're looking for

You'll be a talented student on track to achieve a 2:2 degree or above to work in a growing team of consultants.

You'll have ambition, vision, enthusiasm and the drive to keep on developing your technical skills and achieve professional status (RICS). With a passion for working in a fully inclusive consultancy environment, you'll want to work with clients and with teams who deliver to their customers. You'll be adaptable and a confident decision maker with excellent communication and team-working skills. You will also have the ability to apply your technical knowledge to analyse problems and create innovative solutions.

Rewards & Benefits

If you join us, you'll be working on a wide range of innovative and demanding projects, helping us to turn bold ideas into reality. You'll have opportunities to learn from some of the most experienced consultants in the industry. Each year, our top performing placement students (who've done at least 8 weeks on placement with us) have the opportunity to be nominated onto our Graduate Development Programme.

To apply, please return to the main job specification